

AP English Literature Summer Reading

Greetings and welcome to AP English Literature! This is an interactive, yet challenging course designed to strengthen your writing skills and broaden your abilities in analyzing literature. In preparation for our study in the fall, you do have some work to complete over the summer. Please see below for more info. All readings and assignments are expected to be completed and ready to turn in on the first day of school. I may not ask for a submission right away, but in case I do, you should be ready!

Assignment 1: Read 15 chapters (your choice) of How to Read Literature Like a Professor by Thomas C. Foster

Do this first!! This book will help you improve your understanding of literature. Read it closely and carefully, taking good notes! We will refer to the key ideas presented in it throughout the year. As the description on Amazon says, “While many books can be enjoyed for their basic stories, there are often deeper literary meanings interwoven in these texts. How to Read Literature Like a Professor helps us to discover those hidden truths by looking at literature with the eyes—and the literary codes—of the ultimate professional reader, the college professor.”

You may, of course, read the whole thing!

Assignment 2: Poetry Analysis (Written Reflection Required)

<https://www.poetryoutloud.org/search/?type=poem>

Much of our studies will revolve around poetry. In preparation for this, I would like you to complete an assignment that tells me your interpretation of “great poetry.” Select a poem (from 1980 through today) that you consider to be worthy of study and instruction in AP English Literature. You may choose from the website listed above or find a poem on your own. However, it cannot be a poem you have studied previously for school. Then, write a 250+ word response explaining what makes this a “great” poem. I will not put any parameters on you, I simply want to know what you think makes a poem worthy of your time. Avoid online assistance in completing this assignment. There is no “wrong answer!” *You will turn this in as an assignment on Google Classroom.

Assignment 3: Choice Read of Literary Merit (Written Reflection Required)

Throughout the year we will be reading several novels and plays in preparation for the AP English exam. Select a title to read over the summer. College Board frequently labels books or plays as titles with “literary merit,” although they never define that label. In preparation for our first week of written analysis, you need to choose a novel or play to read this summer from the list provided (you cannot choose your summer reading novel from junior year or a text you have read for another class) - these have all been included on the AP Test as works of merit. Then, upon completion, write a 250+ word reflection explaining what the phrase “literary merit” means to you, and why this novel or play has it. *You will turn this in as an assignment on Google Classroom.

Overall, you are required to read two books this summer in preparation for AP Lit. I urge you to read texts that are challenging, diverse, and different from what you normally read. I look forward to discussing your reading experience with you as we explore mankind’s journey of self-discovery in AP Literature and Composition during your senior year!

Course Prerequisites: Honors British Literature and/or Teacher Recommendation

Note: This class is a college level course to prepare students to take the AP English Literature and Composition exam.
